

Car Accident Checklist

What should you do after you get into a car accident?

The first step to take after a car accident is to ensure that you and any others involved in the accident are safe.

Steps to follow:

1 Stay calm & stay safe

Firstly, ensure that you and the passengers in both your car and the other car involved are safe. Then, if your car is safe to drive, move it to the side of the road and out of traffic.

2 Call the Police

Next, call 911 immediately and wait at the scene until the authorities arrive. Then, provide the police with all the essential information including any injuries and what happened.

3 Exchange information & take images and videos

It's important to swap information with the other driver for documentation purposes. This information includes, insurance information such as their insurance company and policy number.

Begin The Claims Process

Prepare to provide the following information:

- Which covered vehicle was involved?
- Who was driving the vehicle?
- Exact location and time of the accident.
- A basic description of the accident and the severity of the damage done.
- The name and insurance information of the other driver.
- Names and contact information of all involved in the accident and witnesses if there were any.
